1. Sit Down If... (5 mins)

1. In advance, prepare a list of statements or questions which reflect particular characteristics and / or experiences of people. See sample list of statements below.
2. Gather your group, and ask them to stand in front of their chair or in an open space.
3. Announce that you will soon call a series of statements to the group from your list.
4. Explain that if the statement applies to an individual, this person is invited to sit down, in effect, eliminated from the game.
5. For example, you could ask 'Sit down if you ... sing in the shower, or... have never ridden a horse.'
6. Continue to read from your list, item by item, until you have eliminated everyone in your group, or only one person remains.
7. Play a second round with a different set of questions, or try a variation.

Here are a set of sample statements you could ask (in no particular order). Add to this list by thinking of your own statements, or download the Print+Play Sit Down If... template from the Resources tab connected to this activity.
